Four Detroit men, have been charged as part of a $1.4-million cocaine bust in western Pennsylvania, a case the Detroit FBI agent who died after a car wreck Monday had been working on.

The Michigan men along with four from Pennsylvania's Westmoreland and Allegheny counties helped distribute an estimated 20 kilograms of cocaine last year, Pennsylvania Attorney General Tom Corbett said Tuesday. Three of the Detroiters are members of a gang called the A-Team.

FBI Agent Paul Sorce, 44, killed while on duty in Harper Woods, was the Michigan point man for the investigation, Corbett's spokeswoman Lauren Bozart said. It was unclear if the crash was connected to the case.

Julio Olivo, 23; Andre Thomas, 23; Charles Edwards, 30, and David Bailey, 23, face numerous drug charges, authorities said.

Visitation for Sorce is 1-4 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. Friday at A. H. Peters Funeral Home, 20705 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods. The funeral is 1 p.m. Saturday at Grace Community Church, 21001 Moross, Detroit, with burial to follow at North Shore Cemetery, Benton Harbor.
