Motorcycle club chief sentenced

DETROIT -- Forbidden Wheels motorcycle club president Paul (Rocky) Dye , protesting that he was wrongly convicted on the testimony of "murderers and arsonists," was sentenced Friday to life in prison without parole in the murders of two women.

Dye, a 29-year-old Center Line carpenter, was convicted of shooting Donna Bartels and Glenda Collins in the head after they refused his sexual advances, witnesses testified. Dye claimed that prosecution witness Bruce Seidel was the real murderer.
