A biker brawl near downtown Milford left three people with stab wounds this weekend, the police chief said, but no suspects in the case.

According to Police Chief Wayne Walli, about 40 bikers were involved in an altercation in the parking lot of the Red Dog Saloon off North Milford Road late Saturday. The bikers had been at a gathering in Lyon Township.

During the altercation, three bikers were stabbed but all are expected to recover. Police did not identify any of the victims.

"We don't have a lot of specific information on the incident," Walli said.

George Robinson, who owns the saloon with his wife, Patty McMillan, said the bikers showed up about 11 p.m. and, suspecting trouble was brewing, he called 911. About three minutes later, the incident was over, police arrived and most of the bikers had left.

None of the bikers had been partying at the Red Dog Saloon before the incident, the owner and police chief said.

"I don't know who was who or what was what," Robinson said.

Officers from Wixom, the Oakland County Sheriff's Office and Metroparks police assisted Milford.

Walli said the bikers were in the Forbidden Wheels, the Scorpions and the Avengers motorcycle clubs.

Robinson said he has owned the saloon for about a year and has had no problems. He welcomes bikers but not if they advertise their club affiliation.

"This is an isolated incident that has nothing to do with us," he said. "But it has impacted business."
